SILVER BAY NURSERIES

DAPHNE, ALABAMA

"On Mobile Bay"

RETAIL PRICE LIST

Silver Bay Nurseries stock is all grown in the open—some in the semi-shade of trees—some in the full sun, just under such conditions as the plants would have in your own yard. We use no chemical fertilizers. The plants are not forced in any way. All plants are given plenty of room for proper root and top development. All stock has been sprayed, and of course, inspected, and certified to be free from disease.

The plants listed are hardy and healthy and should go right on growing in your yards, with the minimum of attention.

Good Camellias are scarce. We have some of the varieties listed in very limited numbers. We advise you to place your order now, to get your choice of varieties.

All evergreen plants, even smaller sizes, are balled and burlapped unless otherwise specified.

It will be a privilege to serve you and if we are favored with your order it will have our special, personal attention.

Thanking you,

Silver Bay Nurseries,
Daphne, Alabama.

The kiss of the sun for pardon,
The song of the birds for mirth,
One is nearer God's heart in a garden.
Than anywhere else on earth.

CULTURAL NOTES ON AZALEAS, CAMELLIAS AND OTHER SHRUBS AND TREES

The planting and care of all plants listed—for practical purposes—is identical.

Any good garden soil, slightly acid, with plenty of rotted leaves and leaf mold from hardwood trees, such as oak, bays, gums, etc., worked in—is satisfactory. The soil must be well drained. Azaleas or Camellias, in fact, very few plants will tolerate standing water or water saturated soil.

The actual planting is important. Never plant any deeper than previous planting—even an inch or two too deep—will produce a sickly plant. It is advisable to plant Azaleas and Camellias slightly higher than previous planting, bringing the surrounding soil up to the balls. This allows for gradual sinking in soft soil.

Fertilizer—Silver Bay Nurseries do not recommend heavy fertilizer. If plenty of leaf mold is used in the soil and as a mulch—very little extra fertilizer is needed. Cottonseed meal, tung nut meal, or well rotted barnyard material are excellent and organic fertilizers. Too much fertilizer produces too much top growth and such plants do not bud or bloom well. Also too much fertilizer can easily injure tender root systems.

Two applications of fertilizers a year is generally practiced—the first soon after blooming, in early spring—the second from middle to last of June.

Spraying—Volck used at the rate of one part to 50 parts of water, adding one to two teaspoons of Black Leaf 40 to every gallon of water, is effective against all scale and most insect pests. Spray should never be used in late Fall as a freeze causes great damage if it hits soon after spraying.

Caution: Never use any oil spray during hot weather, as it will cause serious damage.

Watering—Both Camellias and Azaleas love a humid atmosphere. Use plenty of water, especially during the hot dry spells. Keep all newly transplanted stock well watered. Soak thoroughly when planting, and do not allow to dry out.

Mulching—A good mulch—three to four inches—of leaves or pine straw is beneficial. In the winter bring mulch well up on and between the stems of the plant; damage from freeze often occurs at the base of a plant.

RARE CAMELLIA GRAFTS

Many of the varieties of rare Camellias are slow, delicate growers on their own roots. By grafting these varieties to the root of a hardy, fast growing variety, we procure a fine, hardy, faster growing rare Camellia. The blooms of a graft are often larger and finer than those of the same variety on its own root. The grafts generally bud and bloom the second year—but a few varieties seldom bloom until the third year.

We highly recommend our grafted Camellias—all are strong, sturdy plants in fine condition.

CAMELLIA SASANQUA

Jewels From The Orient

These handsome flowering plants, one of the finest of the evergreens, are just now becoming popular and well known. Same family as the Camellia Japonica, but for the most part, much faster growing and much hardier. They can be grown successfully much farther North than the Camellia Japonica. They are profuse bloomers, coming into bloom the last part of September, continuing on through the Fall into early winter; blooming at a time when very few flowers are in bloom. Flowers are in several colors, about the size of the Camellia Japonicas—ranging from single to semi-double and full double—many of the single varieties are exquisite in their fragile beauty. They make a real showing and will be a real pleasure as specimen plants—in foundation plantings or in the shrubbery beds.
